CAUTION:

- Exhaustion of State Court Remedies: In order to proceed in federal court you must ordinarily first exhaust your state court remedies as to each ground on which you request action by the federal court. This means that even if you have exhausted some grounds by raising them before the California Supreme Court, you must first present all other grounds to the California Supreme Court before raising them in your federal Petition.
- Single Petition: If you fail to set forth all grounds in this Petition challenging a specific judgment, you may be barred from presenting additional grounds challenging the same judgment at a later date.
- Factual Specificity: You must state facts, not conclusions, in support of your grounds. For example, if you are claiming incompetence of counsel you must state facts specifically setting forth what your attorney did or failed to do. A rule of thumb to follow is — state who did exactly what to violate your federal constitutional rights at what time or place.

GROUND FOR RELIEF

22. State concisely every ground on which you claim that you are being held in violation of the constitution, law or treaties of the United States. Summarize briefly the facts supporting each ground. (e.g. what happened during the state proceedings that you contend resulted in a violation of the constitution, law or treaties of the United States.) If necessary, you may attach pages stating additional grounds and/or facts supporting each ground.

(a) GROUND ONE: "Retroactive repeal of California statute §2817., eliminating (LWOP) review hearings previously available to petitioner under the repealed law alters provisions accorded by the California Legislature and is unconstitutional as an ex post facto law, as applied to petitioner, whose crime was committed (12) years before the statute was repealed."

Supporting FACTS: "On January 1994, the California Board of Parole Hearings (BPH) repealed California statute: "California Code of Regulations (CCR), Board of Prison Terms. Title 15. Division 2. Chapter 7. Executive Clemency. Article 2. Traditional Pardon Procedures. §2817. Board Referral to Governor." At the time petitioner's crime was committed, (July 20, 1981), California statute §2817, was in effect requiring the California parole board to consider the application of any prisoner serving a sentence of life imprisonment without possibility of parole (LWOP) with no more than one felony conviction for recommendation and referral to the Governor for Commutation of Sentence. The repealed law required the board to consider petitioner's application (12) years after he was sentenced, and every (3) years thereafter. Since the repeal of §2817., the state has applied it not only to (LWOP) prisoners for crimes committed since its repeal on January 19, 1994, but also retroactively to all other (LWOP) prisoners, including petitioner, whose crime was committed (12) years before the effective date of the repealed law. The California board of parole hearings uses the repealed statute §2817. to deny petitioner (LWOP) review hearings to determine his suitability for commutation of sentence recommendation which was available to him under the repealed law. Thus, the retroactive application as applied to petitioner's case attaches legal consequences to his crime committed before the effective date of the repeal. The California board has deprived petitioner of opportunities established by statutory provisions prior to January 1994, and has increased petitioner's punishment beyond what was prescribed when his crime was consummated."

28. Consent to Magistrate Judge Jurisdiction

In order to insure the just, speedy and inexpensive determination of Section 2254 habeas cases filed in this district, the parties may waive their right to proceed before a district judge and consent to magistrate judge jurisdiction. Upon consent of all the parties under 28 U.S.C. § 636(c) to such jurisdiction, the magistrate judge will conduct all proceedings including the entry of final judgment. The parties are free to withhold consent without adverse substantive consequences.

The Court encourages parties to consent to a magistrate judge as it will likely result in an earlier resolution of this matter. If you request that a district judge be designated to decide dispositive matters, a magistrate judge will nevertheless hear and decide all non-dispositive matters and will hear and issue a recommendation to the district judge as to all dispositive matters.

You may consent to have a magistrate judge conduct any and all further proceedings in this case, including the entry of final judgment, by indicating your consent below.

Choose only one of the following:

☐ Plaintiff consents to magistrate judge jurisdiction as set forth above.

OR

☒ Plaintiff requests that a district judge be designated to decide dispositive matters and trial in this case.

29. Date you are mailing (or handing to a correctional officer) this Petition to this court:

Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus

Authorities in support Thereof.

13 On Habeas Corpus

UNDER 28 U.S.C. §2254
BY A PERSON IN STATE CUSTODY

I.

INTRODUCTION

18 At the time petitioner's crime was committed and at the time of his 19 sentencing, California statutory provisions were in effect that required
20 the California Board of Parole Hearings (BPH) to consider the application
21 of any prisoner serving a sentence of life imprisonment without possibility 22 of parole (LWOP) with no more than one felony conviction for referral to 23 the Governor for commutation of sentence. The former law required the Board 24 to consider petitioner's application twelve (12) years after he was sentenced, 25 and every three (3) years thereafter.

26 On January 19, 1994, the California Board of Parole Hearings ["the Board"]
27 hereinafter, repealed state statute "California Code of Regulations (CCR), 28 Board of Prison Terms. Title 15. Division 2. Chapter 7. Executive Clemency.,

1 Article 2. Traditional Pardon Procedures. §2817. Board Referral to Governor."
 2 Petitioner contends that eligibility for mandatory LWOP review hearings was 3 part of the law annexed to his crime when committed. Petitioner was sentenced
 4 to a term under statutory provisions making him eligible for mandatory LWOP
 5 review hearings to determine whether he is suitable for commutation of sentence.
 6 Elimination of mandatory LWOP review hearing eligibility that had been available
 7 to petitioner under the repealed statute changes the legal consequences of acts
 8 completed before the effective date of the statute's repeal. Petitioner 9 further contends that no review hearing eligibility imposes a greater punish-
 10 ment beyond what was prescribed when his crime was committed and is unconsti-11 tutional as an ex post facto law as applied to petitioner, whose crime was 12 committed (12) years before the statute's repeal. Retroactive application of 13 the repealed statute to petitioner's case is an ex post facto violation of 14 the State and Federal Constitutions. Weaver v. Graham, 450 U.S. 24;

24 PARTIES

 26 Petitioner BRUCE ALLEN, CDCR#: C-61243, is a prisoner of the State of 27 California incarcerated at Calipatria State Prison. LARRY SMALL is the warden
 28 of Calipatria State Prison and the legal custodian of petitioner.

1 JAMES TILTON is the Director of the California Department of Corrections and 2 Rehabilitation (CDCR) and is responsible for the operations of each of its 3 State Prisons, including the operation of Calipatria State Prison.

5 III.

6 STATEMENT OF FACTS

7 1. Petitioner is a prisoner confined within the California Department of 8 Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR) serving a sentence of life imprisonment
9 without possibility of parole (LWOP) with no more than one felony conviction.
10 I am a First Term commitment. My commitment offense date occurred on July 20, 11 1981. My sentencing date was on February 16, 1983. (refer to Exhibit "A,"
12 and Exhibit "B," State of California Department of Corrections LEGAL STATUS
13 document dated 05-13-83, Dept. of Corrections Classification Chrono CDC-128G 14 dated 03/18/08).

15
16 2. Petitioner's LWOP sentence is governed pursuant to California statutory 17 law and the California Board of Parole Hearings administrative rules and 18 regulatory policy in place at the time of my commitment offense date July 20, 19 1981. The Community Release Board (CRB), the California Parole Authority until 20 the name was changed effective January 1, 1980, renamed the Board of Prison
21 Terms (BPT), and then renamed again in 2006 as the present entity: "The Cali-
22 fornia Board of Parole Hearings (BPH)," promulgated mandatory review hearing
23 procedures for prisoners serving LWOP sentences with no more than one felony
24 conviction to determine suitability for commutation of sentence and referral
25 to Governor based upon statutory provisions and administrative rules prior 26 to and after November 8, 1978.

1 3. The review hearing scheduling for LWOP prisoners pursuant to the 2 Community Release Board (CRB) administrative rules and regulatory policy prior
3 to and after (November 8, 1978 - Repealed January 19, 1994), Title 15. Crime
4 Prevention and Corrections. Community Release Board. Article 2. Traditional 5 Pardon Procedures. §2817. Board Referral to Governor, reads:
6 (a) Persons Considered. Prisoners serving sentences of life imprisonment
7 without possibility of parole who have suffered no more than one felony
8 conviction shall be considered by the board for possible referral to the 9 Governor.
10 (b) Scheduling. The case of each prisoner serving a sentence of LWOP shall 11 be reviewed twelve (12) years after reception and every third year thereafter.
12 (c) Panel. The hearing shall be conducted by a panel as designated by the 13 chairman.
14 (d) Information considered. The hearing panel shall consider the information 15 specified in §§ 2232-2238 and the summary prepared by department staff.
16 (e) Prisoners Rights. At this hearing the prisoner shall have the rights
17 specified in §§ 2245-2255. The record shall be a written summary or a tape 18 recording.
19 (f) Decision. The hearing panel shall determine whether the prisoner should 20 be considered for commutation of sentence and for pardon. If the decision 21 is to recommend commutation or pardon, department staff shall forward the 22 record of the hearing and the panel's recommendations and reasons to the 23 chairman, to the attention of the executive officer, for review. Note:
24 Authority cited: Section 5076.2, Penal Code. Reference: Section 4801, Penal 25 Code. (refer to Exhibit "C," Title 15. Crime Prevention and Corrections.
26 Community Release Board. Article 2. Traditional Pardon Procedures. §2817(a)
27 through (g). Board Referral to Governor. Register 78, No. 14- April 8, 1978, 28 page 305-306).

1 4. On February 20, 1989, the Board gave public notice that it proposes to 2 amend regulations in the Title 15. Division 2. of the California Code of 3 Regulations. The proposed changes read: "After the Briggs Initiative:
4 (Proposition 7, November 7, 1978 election), "[California, specifying new 5 minimum eligible parole release dates for first and second degree murders,
6 effective November 8, 1978]," the Board amended its rules to provide for (30)
7 year review of Life Without the Possibility of Parole (LWOP) prisoners.
8 Prior to that initiative, when the minimum eligible parole date (MEPD) for 9 life prisoners was seven years, the review for (LWOP) was (12) years. The 10 (30) year review was five years beyond the presumed (25) year (MEPD) under 11 Briggs, as the (12) year had been five years beyond the former seven year 12 (MEPD). While this regulatory change may or may not be subject to attack under 13 the ex post facto clauses of the United States or California Constitutions, 14 the Board has determined to provide the earlier review process for those whose 15 commitment offense was prior to the effective date of the regulatory revision, 16 September 12, 1982. This clarifies the regulatory policy as to whether or 17 not the existing (30) year provision would apply to these offenders, and is 18 consistent with Board policy changes based upon statutory provisions prior 19 to and after November 8, 1978."
20 The change is proposed in order to implement, interpret, and make specific 21 Sections 3052, 4801, 5076.1, and 5076.2 of the California Penal Code. (refer
22 to Exhibit "D," ADMINISTRATIVE DIRECTIVE NO. 90/1. Notice of Proposed Changes
23 in the Regulations of the Board of Prison Terms, 15 CCR, Division 2, Chapter
24 7, Executive Clemency. INITIAL STATEMENT OF REASONS, 1. §2817. Board Referral
25 to Governor. Dated February 20, 1989, page 1-8).
26
27 5. The proposed regulatory changes were affirmed and promulgated as operative 28 on December 26, 1990, and circulated as late as December 20, 1993. The regula-

1 tory revision California Code of Regulations (CCR) Title 15. Board of Prison
2 Terms. Chapter 7. Executive Clemency. Article 2. Traditional Pardon Procedures.
3 §2817 (a)(b)(d)(e)(5)(6)(f) Board Referral to Governor, reads:

4 (a) Persons considered. Prisoners serving sentences of life imprisonment
5 without possibility of parole (LWOP) who have suffered no more than one felony
6 conviction shall be considered by the board for possible referral to the 7 Governor.

8 (b) Scheduling. The case of each prisoner serving a sentence of life without 9 the possibility of parole described in (a) whose commitment offense was on 10 or before September 11, 1982, shall be reviewed 12 years after reception and 11 every third year thereafter. Those prisoners described in (a) whose commitment
12 offense was after September 11, 1982, shall be reviewed 30 years after reception
13 and every fifth year thereafter.

14 (d) Board Reports and Psychiatric or Psychological Evaluations. The Board
15 Report for the review shall cover the period from CDC reception date to the 16 review, and include material required for an initial life parole consideration 17 hearing.

18 (e) Interview. At the interview the deputy commissioner shall:

19 (5) Evaluate the prisoner's psychiatric and psychological status and needs,
20 taking into account all clinical reports to determine the risk to public safety 21 if the prisoner were found suitable and released.

22 (6) Assess other factors which would justify consideration by a Board panel.

23 (f) Recommendations. The deputy commissioner shall complete a written report 24 of the review interview, including comments, observations, evaluations, and 25 his or her recommendation which shall be either: (1) no further action, or 26 (2) refer for further consideration by the Board. The deputy commissioner 27 shall document significant positive and/or negative chronological reports 28 (chrono's), laudatory chrono's and completion of any major educational,

1 vocational, or self-help programs. Note: Authority cited: Sections 3052 and 2 5076.2, Penal Code. Reference: Sections 4801 and 5076.1, Penal Code. (refer

 5 Board Referral to Governor. Register 91, No.2: January 11, 1991, pages 105-
 6 106).

 8 6. On January 19, 1994, the Board repealed its California Code of 9 Regulations Title 15. Division 2. Executive Clemency. Chapter 7. Article 2.
 10 Traditional Pardon Procedures. §2817. Board Referral to Governor. The prior 11 content establishing the scheduling, review and referral process is no longer 12 stated. The new version of §2817 does not compensate for the elimination of 13 mandatory LWOP review hearing eligibility which had been available to petitioner
 14 under the old statute. (refer to Exhibit "F," California Code of Regulations
 15 Title 15. Chapter 7. Executive Clemency. Article 2. Traditional Pardon
 16 Procedures. §2817. Board Referral to Governor. Repealer filed 12-20-93:
 17 operative 1-19-94, Register 93. No.52, page 105).

18
 19 7. I have been incarcerated within the California Department of Corrections
 20 and Rehabilitation (CDCR) for over a period of (25) successive years. I have 21 never been provided a post-conviction review hearing by the Board to determine 22 whether I am suitable for commutation of sentence in accordance with statutory 23 provisions and administrative rules in place at the time of my commitment
 24 offense date July 20, 1981.

25 The scheduling of my review hearings should have proceeded along the following
 26 chronological time frames: "My term started on February 22, 1983; Twelve (12)
 27 years after reception initial review hearing date, February 22, 1995; every 28 third year thereafter initial review hearing date, February 22, 1998;

1 February 22, 2001; February 22, 2004; February 22, 2007."

4 EXHAUSTION OF ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES

5 8. On May 11, 2004, the Board released a memorandum which gave notice to 6 the Elimination of Board of Prison Terms Inmate Appeal Process. The Board
7 announced that any inmate desiring to appeal a discretionary act by the Board
8 must file directly with the court. (refer to Exhibit "G," Department of 9 Corrections Memorandum dated May 11, 2004).

11 9. On June 18, 2007, petitioner filed a petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus 12 with the Superior Court of California County of Imperial seeking relief. The 13 petition was denied on August 20, 2007. (refer to Exhibit "H," Court Order).

15 10. On September 10, 2007, petitioner filed a petition for Writ of Habeas
16 Corpus with the Fourth District Court of Appeal, Division One seeking relief.
17 The petition was denied on September 20, 2007. (refer to Exhibit "I," Court 18 Order).

20 11. On November 26, 2007, petitioner filed a petition for Writ of Habeas
21 Corpus with the California State Supreme Court seeking relief. The petition
22 was denied on May 14, 2008. (refer to Exhibit "J," Court Order).

24 12. Since February 22, 1995, through February 22, 2007, petitioner has 25 relied upon the authority and integrity of the California Board of Parole
26 Hearings to fulfill its statutory duties and administrative responsibilities
27 through procedural process, but to no avail. Due to vagaries within the prison
28 system only now have I been able to petition the Honorable Court for relief.

4 13. Petitioner contends that the retroactive application of the repealed
5 California statute California Code of Regulations (CCR), Board of Prison Terms.
6 Title 15. Division 2. Executive Clemency. Chapter 7. Article 2. Traditional 7 Pardon Procedures. §2817. Board Referral to Governor., eliminating mandatory
8 LWOP review hearing eligibility that had been available to petitioner under 9 the repealed statute changes the legal consequences of acts completed before 10 the effective date of the statute's repeal. Petitioner contends that 11 eligibility for mandatory LWOP review hearings was part of the law annexed
12 to his crime when committed. Petitioner was sentenced to a term under statutory 13 provisions making him eligible for mandatory LWOP review hearings to determine
14 whether he is suitable for commutation of sentence. Petitioner further contends 15 that no review hearing eligibility imposes a greater punishment beyond what 16 was prescribed when his crime was committed and is unconstitutional as an 17 ex post facto law as applied to petitioner, whose crime was committed (12)
18 years before the statute's repeal. Retroactive application of the repealed 19 statute to petitioner's case is an ex post facto violation of the State and 20 Federal Constitutions. Weaver v. Graham, 450 U.S. 24; Lindsey v. Washington, 21 301 U.S. 397; Greenfield v. Scafati, 277 F. Supp. 644; Calder v. Bull, 3

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

14. Petitioner is without remedy save by writ of habeas corpus. WHEREFORE, petitioner prays the court:

1. Declare the ex post facto violation in petitioner's case.

2. Order the California Board of Parole Hearings to immediately schedule petitioner for a LWOP review hearing, and subsequent mandatory review hearings in accordance with statutory laws and administrative rules in place at the time of his commitment offense July 20, 1981, and conduct the hearing in accordance with the substantive criteria established by the state to determine whether petitioner is suitable for recommendation for commutation of sentence.

3. Order the California Board of Parole Hearings to comply with the mandates of California state statutes and Constitutional law.

4. Grant any other relief this court deems just, proper, and equitable.

MEMORANDUM OF LAW

I.

1. In order for a criminal or penal law to be ex post facto, it must be retrospective, applying to events occurring before its enactment, and must disadvantage the offender affected by it. U.S.C.A. Const. Art. 1, §10, cl. 1.

2. In applying the ex post facto clause, the relevant date is that on which the offense was committed. U.S.C.A. Const. Art. 1, §9, cl. 3.

3. Even if a statute merely alters penal provisions accorded by the legislature, it violates the ex post facto clause if it is both retrospective and more onerous than the law in effect on the date of the offense. U.S.C.A. Const. Art. 1, §10, cl. 1.

4. Retrospective change that significantly reduces offender's opportunity to shorten his prison term is sufficiently disadvantageous to violate the Ex Post Facto Clause. U.S.C.A. Const. Art. 1, §9, cl. 3.

5. Under California law, a convicted person's eligibility for parole consideration (as opposed to parole) is part of the "law annexed to the crime when committed" within meaning of ex post facto principle, and any legislative change in such eligibility which would work to a prisoner's disadvantage may not be retroactively applied. U.S.C.A. Const. Art. 1, §9, cl. 3.

6. The existence of the old statute, Community Release Board. Title 15. Crime Prevention and Corrections. Article 2. Traditional Pardon Procedures. §2817. Board Referral to Governor., (Exhibit "C"), at the time of petitioner's commitment offense served as an "operative fact." The state statute in place

1 on both the date of petitioner's offense and the date of his sentencing provided
2 a formula for statutory requirements regarding the "eligibility and frequency"
3 of mandatory LWOP review hearings to determine his suitability for commutation
4 of sentence and referral to the Governor. The statute prescribed "when, and 5 how often" a LWOP prisoner "shall" be provided review hearings to determine 6 suitability for commutation of sentence and referral to the Governor.

7 According to the formula:

8 (a) Persons Considered. "Prisoners serving sentences of life imprisonment
9 without possibility of parole who have suffered no more than one felony
10 conviction shall be considered by the board for possible referral to the 11 Governor."

12 (b) Scheduling. "The case of each prisoner serving a sentence of life without 13 the possibility of parole shall be reviewed twelve years after reception and 14 every third year thereafter."

15 (f) Decision). "The hearing panel shall determine whether the prisoner should 16 be considered for commutation of sentence and for pardon...." (refer to 17 Exhibit "C").

19 7. The Board's regulatory revision of September 12, 1982, "fixing" the 20 earlier LWOP review hearing requirements to apply to petitioner "who has no 21 more than one felony conviction, whose commitment offense was prior to the 22 effective date of the regulatory revision (September 12, 1982)," corroborates 23 the law in effect and applicable to petitioner's case on the date of his 24 commitment offense July 20, 1981. (refer to Exhibit "D," ADMINISTRATIVE 25 DIRECTIVE NO. 90/1. Notice of Proposed Changes in the Regulations of the Board
26 of Prison Terms, 15 CCR, Division 2. Chapter 7. Executive Clemency. INITIAL 27 STATEMENT OF REASONS, 1. §2817. Board Referral to Governor., dated February 28 20, 1989, pages 1-8).

1 8. The former law was repealed on January 19, 1994, and since that time the 2 state has applied it not only to LWOP prisoners sentenced for crimes committed 3 since its repeal in 1994, but also retroactively to all other LWOP prisoners,
4 including petitioner, whose offense took place (12) years before the statute
5 was repealed.

7 9. The repealed state statute §2817 has retrospective consequences because 8 it eliminated an established "statutorily mandated time table for LWOP review 9 hearing eligibility and frequency of hearings to determine suitability for 10 commutation of sentence and referral to the Governor that was available to 11 petitioner under the statute in existence when his crime was committed."
12 It applies not only prospectively, but also to prisoners convicted for acts
13 committed before the law's effective repeal date. The retroactive application 14 of the repealed statute substantially alters the legal consequences attached
15 to petitioner's crime already completed, changing the quantum of punishment,
16 and has been applied to petitioner to his detriment. Weaver v. Graham, 450
17 U.S. 24, 962; Lindsey v. Washington, 301 U.S. 397, 401; Calder v. Bull, 3
18 Dall.386, 390; Dobbett v. Florida, supra, 432 U.S. 293-294.

19
20 II.

21 10. The United States Supreme Court has previously recognized that a 22 prisoner's eligibility for reduced imprisonment is a significant factor entering 23 into both the defendant's decision to plea bargain and the judge's calculation
24 of the sentence to be imposed. Wolff v. McDonnell, 418 U.S. 539, 557;
25 Warden v. Marrero, 417 U.S. 653, 658; United States v. De Simone, 468 F.2d
26 1196; Durant v. United States, 410 F.2d 689, 692.

27
28 11. The opportunity to obtain commutation of sentence through rehabilitation

1 was apparent in the fact that the statutorily mandated §2817 review process
2 existed as California law. The fact that the ultimate commutation is subject
3 to the veto power of the Governor does not dissolve the substantial opportunity
4 which existed for petitioner under the repealed law. (refer to Exhibit "C").
5 The current recommendations for parole for all life sentences under the 6 "Briggs Initiative: Proposition 7, November 7, 1978, California general 7 election, specifying new minimum eligible parole release dates for first and 8 second degree murders, effective November 8, 1978," is subject to the arbitrary
9 veto power of the Governor of California, and such veto power has no diminishing
10 effect on the prisoner's opportunity to gain freedom from custody and control 11 prior to the expiration of their maximum term.

12
13 12. Life imprisonment without possibility of parole LWOP is a technical 14 term, with peculiar meaning in California law. Both the 1977 California state
15 statute and the 1978 "Briggs Initiative" provide that the alternative to death
16 is life imprisonment without possibility of parole. However, the 1978
17 initiative requires the jury to be instructed that a sentence of life imprison-
18 ment without possibility of parole may be commuted or modified by the Governor 19 to a sentence that includes the possibility of parole.
20 The "real consequences" of such sentence include possibilities of gubernatorial 21 pardon or commutation of sentence. By applying the review process to a specific 22 class of LWOP prisoners "(Lwop prisoners who have suffered no more than one 23 felony conviction shall be considered by the board for possible referral to 24 the Governor - First Term prisoners, refer to Exhibit "C"), the California
25 legislature expressed their intent that First Term prisoners "shall" receive 26 the opportunity to qualify for, and achieve commutation of sentence.
27 California Penal Code §190.3 reads: "The trier of fact shall be instructed 28 that a sentence of confinement to state prison for a term of life without the

1 possibility of parole may in future after sentence is imposed, be commuted
2 or modified to a sentence that includes the possibility of parole by the 3 governor of the state of California."

4 California Penal Code §4801 reads: "The Community Release Board may report
5 to the Governor from time to time the names of any and all persons imprisoned 6 in any state prison who, in its judgment, ought to have a commutation of 7 sentence or be pardoned and set at liberty on account of good conduct, or 8 unusual term of sentence, or any other cause which, in their opinion, should 9 entitle the prisoner to a pardon or commutation of sentence."

10 The legislative intent with respect to the former law "Title 15. Community
11 Release Board. Article 2. §2817. Board Referral to Governor, (a) through (g), 12 refer to Exhibit "C," is fully set forth in the act. For those LWOP prisoners
13 whose commitment offense was prior to the effective date of the Board's 14 regulatory revision, September 12, 1982, the Board is required to provide the 15 earlier review process to the extent that the penalty thereunder was less 16 stringent, so as to avoid ex post facto consequences, and otherwise applying 17 the review process called for under the law in order to give effect to the 18 ameliorative attitude expressed by the legislature in enacting it.
19 Retroactive elimination of mandatory LWOP review hearing eligibility precluding
20 future consideration nullifies the legislature's intent that prisoners, 21 particularly "First Termers," who demonstrate a receptiveness to reform and 22 a disposition toward rehabilitation should receive the opportunity to shorten
23 their time in prison. The prospect of commutation of sentence is in fact one 24 determinant of petitioner's prison term - and that his effective sentence is 25 altered once this determinant is changed. Lindsey v. Washington, 301 U.S.
26 at 401-402; Greenfield v. Scafati, 277 F.Supp. 664; Rodriguez v. United 27 States Parole Commission, 594 F.2d 170.

28 ////

III.

13. The California legislative intent using mandatory language in its statutory scheme provided petitioner opportunities to gain commutation of sentence through the mechanism of mandatory LWOP review hearings for LWOP prisoners who have suffered no more than one felony conviction. The retroactive application of the repealed law §2817. Board Referral to Governor., in petitioner's case completely altering the method by which he can gain commutation of sentence increases the punishment beyond what was prescribed when his crime was consummated. The ex post facto prohibition forbids the Congress and the States to enact any law "which imposes a punishment for an act which was not punishable at the time it was committed; or imposes additional punishment to that then prescribed." Cummings v. Missouri, 4 Wall. 277, 325-326; Lindsey v. Washington, 301 U.S. 397, 401; Rooney v. North Dakota, 196 U.S. 319, 324-325; In re Medley, 134 U.S. 160, 171; Calder v. Bull, 3 Dall. 386, 390.

14. The United States Supreme Court has analyzed the ex post facto clause within the context of a statute which altered the availability of "gain time for good conduct." In Weaver v. Graham, the Florida courts had denied weaver habeas corpus relief on the grounds that the allowances of such time "is an act of grace rather than a vested right and may be withdrawn, modified or denied." (Id., at p. 28, 101 S.Ct. at 963.) The high court corrected that interpretation, noting that "...our decisions prescribe that two critical elements be presented for a criminal or penal law to be ex post facto: it must be retrospective, that is, it must apply to events occurring before its enactment, and it must disadvantage the offender affected by it. [citations.] Contrary to the reasoning of the Supreme Court of Florida, a law need not impair a 'vested right' to violate the ex post facto prohibition." (ID., at

1 p. 29, 101 S.Ct. at 964, fns.omitted.)
2 Weaver thus quickly disposes of the people's claim that because no parole date
3 had been set before the change in guidelines that defendant had no "vested
4 right" to which the bar against ex post facto law attached. The high court 5 responded to such an argument by saying: "the presence or absence of an 6 affirmative, enforceable right is not relevant.... Critical to relief under 7 the Ex Post Facto Clause is not an individual's right to less punishment, but 8 the lack of fair notice and governmental restraint when the legislature 9 increases punishment beyond what was prescribed when the crime was consummated."
10 (450 U.S. at p. 30, 101 S.Ct. at p. 965.)
11 In brief, "the critical question is whether the law changes the legal 12 consequences of acts completed before its effective date." (Id., at p. 31, 13 101 S.Ct. at p. 965.) The Supreme Court concluded that it was unnecessary 14 for it to decide whether the prospect of gain-time was technically part of 15 the inmate's sentence in order "to conclude that it in fact is one determinant 16 of petitioner's prison term - and that his effective sentence is altered once
17 this determinant is changed." (Id., at p. 32, 101 S.Ct. at p. 966.)
18 The high tribunal thus held that the alteration in the method of awarding gain
19 time, even though the change authorized extra gain-time through exemplary
20 conduct at the discretion of the authorities, constituted an impermissible
21 ex post facto law as to petitioner because it circumscribed his opportunities
22 to gain early release and therefore made his punishment more onerous. (Id., 23 at p.36, 101 S.Ct. at p. 968.) Weaver v. Graham, 450 U.S. 24.

24
25 15. The legislative history of the Parole Commission and Reorganization
26 Act indicates that Congress viewed the possibility of parole as an element
27 of the "punishment" annexed to any crime: "Determinations of just punishment 28 are part of the parole process." H.R. Rep. No. 94-838 (Conference Report),

1 94th Cong., 2d Sess. 26, reprinted in [1976] U.S. Code Cong. & Admin. News,
2 pp. 351, 358.

3 The ex post facto clause looks to the standard of punishment prescribed by a
4 statute, rather than to the sentence actually imposed. In Warden v. Marrero,
5 the United States Supreme Court analyzed a case which repealed 26 USCS §7237(d)
6 containing a parole eligibility provision for narcotics offenders; the court
7 held, among other things, that the "no-parole" provision of 26 U.S.C.S.
8 §7237(d) (1964 ed. and Supp.V) was a "penalty, forfeiture, or liability" within 9 the meaning of I U.S.C. §109, and therefore the repeal of §7237(d) did not 10 make prisoners sentenced under that provision eligible for parole. The court 11 relied primarily on the legislative history of §7237(d), which indicated "that 12 Congress meant ineligibility for parole to be treated as part of the punishment," 13 id. at 662, 94 S.Ct. at 2537, annexed to the crimes for which the prisoners
14 in that case had been convicted. Thus, it appears not only that Congress views
15 the possibility of parole as an element of "punishment," but also that Congress 16 sometimes denies that possibility to make more severe the punishment technically 17 prescribed.

18 In Warden v. Marrero, the court also pointed out two "additional reasons for 19 believing that the no-parole provision is an element of... punishment:"

20 First, only an unusual prisoner could be expected to think that he was 21 not suffering a penalty when he was denied eligibility for parole

22 Second, a repealer of parole eligibility previously available to 23 imprisoned offenders would clearly present the serious question under 24 the ex post facto clause of Art. I, §9, cl. 3, of whether it imposed
25 a greater or more severe punishment than was prescribed by law at the time
26 of the offense,....

27 Id. at 662-663, 94 S.Ct. at 2538 (emphasis in original; citations omitted).

28 Eligibility in the abstract is useless; only an unusual prisoner could be

1 expected to think that he is not suffering a penalty when even though he is 2 eligible for parole and might be released if granted a hearing, he is denied
3 that hearing. Denial of any meaningful opportunity for parole by retroactive
4 application of the Parole Commission's rule violates the ex post facto clause
5 of the Federal Constitution. Warden v. Marrero, 417 U.S. 653.

7 16. In Greenfield v. Scafati, the United States Supreme Court affirmed the 8 judgment of a three-judge District Court which found an ex post facto violation
9 in an amended Massachusetts statute forbidding a prisoner from earning good
10 conduct deductions and the possibility of earlier release. The court held 11 that "It is true that parole is commonly spoken of as a matter of grace, and 12 not of right. It would be more accurate, however, to say that a prisoner's 13 entitlement to parole lies in the discretion of the parole board. It would 14 not follow because a prisoner might not receive parole that it would not be 15 an unlawful ex post facto burden to deprive him altogether of the right to 16 be found qualified. Rather, we see no distinction between depriving a prisoner 17 of the right to earn good conduct deductions and the right to qualify for, 18 and hence earn, parole. Each, to quote In re Medley, supra, materially 19 "alters the situation of the accused to his disadvantage." Greenfield v.
20 Scafati, 277 F.Supp., at 646; In re Medley, supra, at 171, 10 S.Ct., at 387.

21
22 17. The facts remain that under the California statute in existence when 23 petitioner's crime was committed he was provided substantial opportunities 24 through the statutory scheme requiring that "Prisoners serving sentences of 25 life imprisonment without possibility of parole who have suffered no more than 26 one felony conviction shall be considered by the board for possible referral
27 to the Governor," through the mechanism of mandatory review hearings effective
28 (12) years after reception within the California Department of Corrections

1 and Rehabilitation (CDCR) and every (3) years thereafter to be found qualified
2 for, and hence earn, commutation of sentence and gain freedom from custody
3 and control prior to the expiration of his maximum term. Petitioner is 4 entitled to have his application for those benefits duly considered.

5 It is clearly affirmative that the retroactive application of the repealed
6 California statute §2817.(a) through (g) (1978) applies to prisoners convicted 7 for acts committed before the effective date of the repeal of the provision.

8 The state of California uses the repealed §2817.(a) through (g), which was 9 repealed on January 19, 1994, to deny petitioner LWOP review hearings to 10 determine his suitability for commutation of sentence recommendation which 11 was available to petitioner under the former statute, who was convicted of 12 a crime occurring on July 20, 1981. Thus, the retroactive application as 13 applied to petitioner's case attaches legal consequences to a crime committed 14 before the effective date of the repeal.

15 The retroactive application of the repealed California statute §2817.(a) through 16 through (g), as applied to petitioner's case is entirely restrictive, because 17 the opportunities to present petitioner's rehabilitative achievements directly
18 to the California Board of Parole Hearings in a legal forum (review hearings)
19 conducive to determining petitioner's suitability for commutation of sentence 20 recommendation under provisions of law applicable to him prior to 21 January 19, 1994, have been extinguished, and the deprivation of review
22 hearings is not offset by any new opportunities to qualify for commutation 23 of sentence.

24 It is plainly to the substantial disadvantage of petitioner to be deprived 25 of all opportunities previously available to him under the former statute 26 and as part of his original sentence to be found qualified for, and hence 27 earn, commutation of sentence in accordance with the expressed intent of the 28 California Legislature.

The

1 The California Board's retroactive repeal of the California statute §2817.
2 (a) through (g) (1978), as applied to petitioner's case depriving him of 3 LWOP review hearings previously available to him alters provisions accorded 4 by the California Legislature prior to January 19, 1994.
5 The replacement of mandatory review hearings with "no" review hearings increases 6 petitioner's punishment beyond what was prescribed when the crime was 7 consummated and is unconstitutional as an ex post facto law as applied to 8 petitioner, whose crime was committed (12) years before the statute was 9 repealed.

10
11
12
13 Conclusion

14 For the reasons recounted above, the relief sought in the petition should 15 be granted.

16

Inmate ALLEN made a personal appearance before Facility B, UCC for the purpose of an Annual Review. Committee notes Inmate is assigned to CLK%B.630. Inmate's RGPL is 12.9. The review periods considered for this annual review were 3-1-07 through 2-29-08. He received 2 Average or above Average Work Performance Reports. He remained disciplinary free during this review period. Inmate is to be commended for his positive programming. His Preliminary score remains at 0. However his PS remains at 52 due to the Mandatory Minimum for his LWOP Status. After a review of the C-File, it was noted that the Last 128-G which lists full case factors is dated 12-15-05. Committee notes all case factors remain the same with the exception of an updated TB code of 22 per 128-C dated 3-13-07. Committee notes Inmate Allen requested to be afforded the opportunity to receive Vocational Training as well as an in level transfer. These requests were denied for the following reasons, Calipatria no longer allow Inmates serving a term of LWOP access to Vocational Trades due to the escape risk and the Department of Corrections is not transferring in-level Inmates unless it is for disciplinary or medical reasons. After a review of all case factors, committee elects to REAFFIRM PRELIMINARY SCORE AT 0. PS REMAINS AT 52 DUE TO LWOP STATUS. REAFFIRM MED-A CUSTODY AND WG/PG A1A EFFECTIVE 12-18-96. RETAIN CAL-IV AND CPP. Inmate meets the criteria for placement in a 270 designed institution. Inmate is not eligible for MSF, CCRC, MCCF, CCF, Camp, or Restitution Center due to Life Sentence and Violence. Inmate does not meet the MDO referral criteria. The inmate is not a participant in the MHSDS, DDP or the DPP. Inmate's case was reviewed for double cell housing and was found suitable for double cell housing with no special restrictions because there is no history of in-cell violence or aggression toward other Inmates. A current CDC 1882 is in the Inmate's C-File. CDC 840, 812, 127 and Minimum Screening forms are current. Inmate Allen was advised of his right to appeal and informed that this Committee will act as his first level of appeal. His next Annual Review is scheduled for 4/09. There are no other concerns noted. (ka)

ADMINISTRATIVE DIRECTIVE NO. 90/1

SUBJECT: Notice of Proposed Changes in the Regulations of the Board of Prison Terms, 15 CCR, Division 2,
Chapter 7, Executive Clemency

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CHANGES IN THE REGULATIONS
OF THE BOARD OF PRISON TERMS

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Prison Terms proposes to amend regulations in Title 15, Division 2 of the California Code of Regulations. Penal Code Sections 3052 and 5076.2 authorize the Board to take this action.

The change is proposed in order to implement, interpret, and make specific Sections 3052, 4801, 5076.1, and 5076.2 of the Penal Code.

The general public is invited to comment on the proposed changes outlined in the Informative Digest, and may submit written statements on or before April 30, 1990.

A public hearing is scheduled for April 30, 1990, pursuant to Government Code Section 11346.8. Any interested person or his or her duly authorized representative may attend.

INITIAL STATEMENT OF REASONS

1. §2817. Board Referral to Governor. After the Briggs Initiative (Proposition 7, November 7, 1978 election), the Board amended its rules to provide for 30 year review of Life Without the Possibility of Parole (LWOP) prisoners. Prior to that initiative, when the minimum eligible parole date (MEPD) for life prisoners was seven years, the review for LWOP was 12 years. The 30 year review was five years beyond the presumed 25 year MEPD under Briggs, as the 12 year had been five years beyond the former seven year MEPD. While this regulatory change may or may not be subject to attack under the ex post facto clauses of the United States or California Constitutions, the Board has determined to provide the earlier review process for those whose commitment offense was prior to the effective date of the regulatory revision, September 12, 1982. This clarifies the regulatory policy as to whether or not the existing 30 year provision would apply to these offenders, and is consistent with Board policy changes based upon statutory provisions prior to and after November 8, 1978.

Existing subdivision (c) refers to §§2232 to 2238 as information considered by the hearing panel in this process. Sections 2232 to 2234 have been repealed by the Office of Administrative Law, and the remaining sections are limiting as opposed to affirmatively stating information to be considered.

Subdivision (c) as proposed would specify a "screening" process to precede a hearing which would be held only under specified circumstances. It would also include relevant rights for prisoners now set forth in subdivision (d). All of these rights, specified by cross-references to other sections, would remain the same except the right to a departmental representative. This right (§2252) was intended for life prisoner progress hearings and is not appropriate in the proposed review procedure. The cross-reference to §2254, record of hearing, is also removed. Section 2254 only specifies that there shall be a record permitting a transcript, tape recording, or written summary. Proposed section (g) would mandate a written summary, one of the options in existing §2254. The specification of the record is covered in proposed subdivision (f). Subdivision (c) further clarifies that the screening is an interview and file review conducted by a deputy commissioner selected by the chairperson.

Proposed Changes in Regulations

1. Amend Section 2817 to read:

2817. Board Referral to Governor.

(a) Persons Considered. Prisoners serving sentences of life imprisonment without possibility of parole who have suffered no more than one felony conviction shall be considered by the board for possible referral to the Governor.

(b) Scheduling. The case of each prisoner serving a sentence of life without the possibility of parole shall be reviewed thirty years after reception and every fifth year thereafter. described in (a) whose commitment offense was on or before September 11, 1982, shall be reviewed 12 years after reception and every third year thereafter. Those prisoners described in (a) whose commitment offense was after September 11, 1982, shall be reviewed 30 years after reception and every fifth year thereafter.

~~(c) Information Considered. The hearing panel shall consider the information specified in Sections 2232-2238 and the summary prepared by department staff and any other relevant information.~~

(c) LWOP Documentation Review. The review shall consist of an interview and review of the central file and relevant documents conducted by one deputy commissioner designated by the chairperson. Although this is not a "hearing," the prisoner shall have the relevant rights specified in §§2245-2251, 2253, and 2255.

~~(d) Prisoner Rights. At this hearing the prisoner shall have the rights specified in Sections 2245-2255. The record shall be a written summary or a tape recording.~~

The preparing counselor shall carefully consider commitment factors, including the crime and the reason the court imposed the LWOP term, any additional commitment counts, prior social and criminal history, programming and adjustment in prison and any evidence of significant change which might justify, now or in the future, gubernatorial consideration. The Department of Corrections shall also provide a psychiatric or psychological evaluation in the same format as that provided in life parole consideration hearings.

~~(e) Decision. The hearing panel shall determine whether the prisoner should be considered for commutation of sentence and for pardon.~~

~~If the decision is to recommend commutation or pardon, department staff shall forward the record of the hearing and the panel's recommendations and reasons to the chairman, to the attention of the executive officer, for review.~~

(e) Interview. At the interview the deputy commissioner shall:

(2) Review with the prisoner the Board Report and the prisoner's view of time in prison.

(3) Evaluate social and criminal history and causative factors which led to the life crime. Evaluate the prisoner's attitude toward his or her crime and sentence.

(4) Evaluate: (A) progress made in prison and efforts toward self-help or understanding, rehabilitation; (B) concern for other people; (C) restitution or other evidence of remorse; and (D) the prisoner's disciplinary record with reference to understanding and self-control.

(5) Evaluate the prisoner's psychiatric and psychological status and needs, taking into account all clinical reports to determine the risk to public safety if the prisoner were found.

suitable and released.

(6) Assess other factors which would justify consideration by a Board panel.

Proposed recommendations and the reasons therefore shall be shared with the prisoner.

(f) Recommendation. The deputy commissioner shall complete a written report of the review interview, including comments, observations, evaluations, and his or her recommendation which shall be either: (1) no further action, or (2) refer for further consideration by the Board. The deputy commissioner shall document significant positive and/or negative chronos, laudatory chronos and completion of any major educational, vocational, or self-help programs.

(g) Board Review. The written report will be the record of the interview. The report and a copy of the prisoner's file shall be transmitted to the Central Office for review by the executive officer and chairperson. A copy of the report shall be transmitted to the prisoner. The executive officer shall comment and recommend approval or disapproval. Upon approval by the chairperson, the recommendation is effective.

(h) Post Approval/Disapproval Procedures.

(1) If the approved recommendation is that no further action be taken, all documents shall be returned to the Central File, and further review scheduled in accordance with subparagraph (b). If the chairperson disapproves a recommendation of no further review, he or she shall select a different deputy commissioner to perform a new review in accordance with these regulations.

(2) If the approved recommendation is further review by the Board, the executive officer shall schedule the matter for a Clemency Review Hearing on the Life Parole Consideration calendar and refer the case to the chief investigator to obtain the additional information specified in subdivision (c) of §2817.1

NOTE: Authority cited: Sections 3052 and 5076.2, Penal Code. Reference: Sections 4801 and 5076.1, Penal Code.

2817.1 Board Hearing, Clemency.

(a) This hearing is conducted by a three person panel which shall include at least two commissioners.

(b) The prisoner shall have the rights specified in §§2245-2251, 2253 and 2255. The record shall be a tape recording.

(c) The panel shall consider the documents set forth in subdivision (c) of §2817, the written summary resulting from the interview in subdivision (f) of §2817, and the report of the chief investigator, including statements, reports, and/or letters obtained from the judge of the superior court before whom the prisoner was tried, the district attorney of the county in which the offense was committed, the attorney who represented the prisoner at trial, the law enforcement agency that investigated the case, and, where the prisoner was convicted of the murder of a peace officer, the law enforcement agency which had employed the peace officer at the time of the murder, victims, next of kin of deceased victims, and any written comments from the public. The recommendation shall be by a majority vote. If the recommendation is "no further action," that decision is effective upon completion of review under §2041, and all material shall be returned to the prisoner's Central File. If the recommendation is "submit for further review for clemency consideration, en banc," the recommendation will be forwarded to the executive officer, who shall schedule the case for an en banc hearing.

NOTE: Authority cited: Sections 3052 and 5076.2, Penal Code. Reference: Sections 4801 and 5076.1, Penal Code.

BRUCE ALLEN,

On Habeas Corpus.

Case No. EHC00880

ORDER DENYING PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Petitioner, an inmate at Calipatria State prison, instituted this action on June 18, 2007. Petitioner alleges ex post facto concerns about changes in the wall regarding the procedure for the Board of prison terms to refer to the Governor petitions for clemency.

The petition is denied for fire to comply with California Rule of Court 4.551(a)(1) which requires that habeas corpus petitions be on the approved Judicial Council form. Although petitioner included the form, petitioner has, essentially, used the form is a mere coversheet for manuscript petition. The use of the form is mandatory as it forces a petitioner to make prominent his essential allegations. More importantly, it forces a petitioner to separate factual allegations from legal argument. Of course, in the event that the form does not have sufficient space for the necessary allegations, an attachment to that portion of the form may be used.

1 For the foregoing reasons, the petition is DENIED without consideration on the merits.

Court of Appeal Fourth District

In re BRUCE ALLEN

on

Habeas Corpus.

D051585

(Imperial County
Super. Ct. No. EHC 00880)

THE COURT:

The petition for writ of habeas corpus has been read and considered by Justices Haller, Huffman and O'Rourke.

Petitioner indicates he was sentenced in Los Angeles County, which is within the Second Appellate District. Petitioner has filed at least one prior petition in that district, No. B031533, which was heard and denied by order. Because the instant petition appears to challenge petitioner's sentence, and the Second Appellate District has previously heard at least one petition in petitioner's case, we deny the petition without prejudice to filing in that district.
